WASHINGTON COUNTY FIRE COSTS THREE LIVES

Alice Longworth Says

Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—The National Chamber of Commerce and business interests are out hammer and tongs against the New Deal policies in regard to industry.

They make it perfectly clear that they accept the principle of co-operation, and that they just as emphatically oppose coercion.

They don't want an arbitrary planned economy with all the planning done by the Washington bureaucrats. There is nothing about what they are doing that smacks of the old business lobbies.

Here is a large group of people with a legitimate grievance out in the open on the public platform stating its case, suggesting remedies and calling for a cessation of government hostility; not a mere "breathing spell" but a real treaty of peace.

They condemn the economy of scarcity and demand opportunity to increase production. Even Secretary of Commerce Roper ignored the N. R. A. flag that the president so jondly clings to, of cutting hours to make the work go 'round.

It might be well to try what business suggests unless we mean to abolish it altogether.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A little boy called The News yesterday and asked: "Who was elected president of the United States?"

A few days ago a wee slip of an anora kitten wandered to the door of a Waldo street house, put up a pretty good "sales mew" and was taken in. The pet dog of the home, with seniority rights, is said to be sulkily jealous of the new addition to the household. Not for years has he consented to drink milk but now he darts to the kitten's saucer and in a couple of laps of a large tongue makes short work of the kitten's dinners.

Officially, the first day of summer won't be until June 21. That will also be the longest day of the year.

Missionary society women of the Presbyterian churches encompassed by the large Shenango Presbyterian are in session today in the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church near Ellwood City.

Young Pa News has heard a number of persons remark about the timely repairing work at the railroad crossings along South Jefferson street. The improvement enhances the condition of the street.

An expressman never knows how big his job is going to be. At a local shipping office yesterday one had an eight-ounce parcel to deliver while his brother worker had one which tipped the scales at 1,200 pounds. "Such is life" they would tell you.

Judging from the hundreds of times that the name of Governor Landau of Kansas was written on Republican party primary ballots in this week's Lawrence county election, there is no doubt of the tremendous sentiment in favor of the Kansan for the G. O. P. nomination.

Two Children And Mother Die As Home Burns

BUNGALOW IS RAGING INFERNO

Father Is In Hospital Near Death—Cleaning Fluid Explosion Fire Cause

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., April 30.—As horror-stricken spectators watched helplessly, a young mother and her two children died early today in flames as the explosion of cleaning fluid in the cellar transformed their bungalow in Tylerdale, into a raging inferno.

The father, John Bubovich, 38, who operates a cleaning and dyeing establishment at nearby Canonsburg, was rushed to the Washington hospital, a human torch. He was given a slight chance to live.

The dead were his wife Bessie and their two daughters, Dorothy 6, and Jane, 3.

Explosion Occurs
A spark from an electric light switch was believed to have touched off fumes from the cleaning fluid stored in the cellar.

Through a hole ripped in the roof of the house by the blast, spectators saw the raging flames engulf the two little girls as they stood in their beds and screamed.

From the father's story, firemen were able to reconstruct a partial account of the tragedy. He told his nurse that he had stored a new supply of cleaning fluid in the cellar for his plant at Canonsburg.

About midnight, he returned home, looked in on his two daughters who were fast asleep and then noticed the mother was not there.

At once he thought of the cleaning fluid and rushed to the cellar. In a split-second before the blast ripped through the house as he

Wife Of Wealthy Manufacturer Goes To England In Tank Room Of Big Vessel

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 30.—Ill and under care of a nurse at a London hotel, after stowing away aboard the liner Georgic, Mrs. Eben S. Draper, wife of a Massachusetts manufacturer, planned today to return to the United States as soon as her condition permits.

She was allowed to come ashore last night, although "on a sudden impulse" she told officials, she boarded the Georgic in New York as a stowaway.

Mrs. Draper remained secluded in the hotel. All attempts by visitors to see her were unavailing.

According to officers aboard the vessel, Mrs. Draper lived in the ship's tank room throughout the voyage, but occasionally left it and spoke to passengers or slept in deck chairs in the daytime.

They said she lived on fruit she had brought aboard at New York and on a loaf of bread and bottle of milk.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Assailed by critics as a "Blue Bill of Woes," the administration's $803,000,000 new tax bill was launched on its senate course today with public hearings before the finance committee.

The first witness was Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. Apparently aroused by bi-partisan charges that the bill would destroy small business, crucify big business, prolong the depression, provoke new unemployment and give lawyers a field day, Morgenthau was reported ready to offer a series of clarifying amendments to change the bill from the form in which it was over-

Warm Political Campaign In Pennsylvania Is Seen For November Election

LESS THAN HALF VOTE AT PRIMARY

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 30.—Political Pennsylvania looked toward the coming national conventions and a bitter November campaign today as late returns from Tuesday's election gave President Franklin D. Roosevelt an estimated 750,000 votes and a 20 to one lead in the Democratic presidential primary.

Trailing far behind, Col. Henry Breckinridge, New York constitutional Democrat, who opposed the president, was expected to have garnered around 40,000 votes in the final tabulation.

Democrats, hailing the anticipated Roosevelt total as an indication of telling strength in the fall election, pointed to the Republican vote given Sen. William E. Borah, the lone G. O. P. presidential candidate in the primary. Borah was approaching the 300,000 vote mark when the state had only 4400 of its 7972 districts reported.

Borah Vote Meaningless
Republican leaders in the state were silent on the election outcome, but spokesmen for the party saw the Borah vote only as a "personal tribute" to the candidate. They pointed out the G. O. P. delegation to the party's national convention was unpicked, and called attention to thousands of "write-in" votes for Gov. Alf. M. Landon and others.

It appeared more and more certain the final tabulation would show that less than 50 per cent of BUFFALO, N. Y., April 30.—John Tryka, 39, hex slayer of Adolph Boettger, 63-year-old masseur he accused of casting an evil spell upon him, hanged himself in a cell at police headquarters today. He tied a handkerchief around his neck, looped it around the bars, and jumped off a bench.

Tryka beat Boettger to death with a wrench in the latter's home last night.

Beats Woman And Boy
Tryka also beat Boettger's wife, Catherine, and his son, William, who tried to protect the victim.

The tragedy took place in Boettger's home last night.

Tryka's wife, Magdalene, looked on as the enraged slayer slugged the Boettgers with the iron bludgeon.

Mrs. Boettger and her son were taken to city hospital where her condition was pronounced serious.

Relates Story
Tryka, in his cell at police headquarters, had told why he slugged the victim. He said Boettger had treated him for various ailments for three or four years.

"He was bad," said Tryka. "When I would pay him lots of money he would drive the spirits away and make me feel good."

"When when I gave him only one or two dollars he would make me wife and my two kids get sick."

THEORIES OF ROOSEVELT ASSAILED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Almost without exception, the government policies of President Roosevelt's new deal were condemned today, in a series of vigorous resolutions presented to the United States chamber of commerce for action at the closing session of its annual meeting.

Support of the Roosevelt foreign trade policy formed the most notable of the few exceptions—in which the chamber's resolution agreed with the reciprocal trade treaty program.

On taxes, social security, federal spending, and currency policy, the resolutions attacked theories of the Roosevelt administration as productive of failure rather than success—as measures retarding recovery rather than furthering it.

Four Fishermen Have Close Call Finally Rescued

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 30.—Weary and hungry, four men who had been adrift since early Tuesday on fog-shrouded Lake Michigan, were rescued today.

Hope of saving the men had dwindled after a futile search by coast-guard cutter and airplanes yesterday.

The men were aboard the fishing tug H. Waterhill.

Lights of the drifting tug were sighted early today by the look out of the steamer Comet. A line was passed to the fishing boat and it was towed to within five miles of the Chicago light, off South Chicago, where the disabled craft was taken in tow by a coastguard picket boat.

Capt. James A. Peterson said the tug's engine had failed shortly after they reached the fishing grounds Tuesday. His crew members were Ernest Johnson, 43, George H. Koons, 45 and Martin Maklad, 44.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Allen, of Wilmington avenue, born on April 28, has been named Lynn Wilfred.

Revenue Program For Special Session Not Yet Completed

By ARTHUR H. WAKELEE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Possibility that federal funds on which they had been banking may not be made available arose today to plague state officials wrestling with taxation problems of the May 4th special session of the legislature.

Although the convening date of the session is now set for four days away administration heads have not yet succeeded in completing their revenue program. Eight of the 16 legislative subjects included in Gov. George H. Earle's call for the emergency session will require appropriations and those appropriations have already been unofficially estimated at approximately $100,000,000.

Counted on Federal Funds
Revenue officials had been counting strongly on federal assistance in carrying out a program of improvements in state institutions. To eliminate fire and safety hazards and to make some provision for the correction of over-crowded conditions.

Extent of the loot was confirmed by Edward A. Pierce, a director of the bank.

While a sixth man waited at the wheel of a black sedan parked near the bank five of the men entered the bank, forced employees and patrons to line on the floor, and scooped up the loot.

Then, warning against an alarm, they ran from the bank, jumped into the waiting car and sped away.

Italian Advance Is But Sixty Miles From Addis Ababa

Climax Of Ethiopian War Is Believed Matter Of Short Time

ETHIOPIAN ARMY BADLY ROUTED

Emperor Haile Selassie Keeps His Whereabouts Secret From Public

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

ADDIS ABABA, April 30.—With 10,000 Italian troops reported less than 60 miles from Addis Ababa and advancing steadily upon the capital, excitement mounted to fever pitch today as a squadron of Italian planes flew over the Akaki airport on the outskirts of the city.

In a maneuver grimly warning that the Italians are at hand and mean business, the planes swooped down and machine-gunned the hangars at the airport, which were empty.

The report that the large body of Italians are within 60 miles of the capital was brought by a British Red Cross detachment which arrived here this morning from Debra Brehan to the north.

Ten Thousand In Advance
Dr. Melly, commanding the Red Cross unit, said the Italian advance guard already had taken the strategically important mountain stronghold of Tarnade virtually without opposition. He said at least 10,000 men were advancing upon Debra Brehan.

International News Service was informed the Italians are advancing upon the capital rapidly, checked only by the bad road, damaged and blasted by the retreating Ethiopian.

New Ethiopian recruits, dispatched from Addis Ababa to the north several days ago, are now returning to the city.

To observers, the flight of the Ethiopian Imperial army and irregulars to the capital resembled a rushing mob fleeing from a riot.

Aside from the increasing disquiet caused by reports brought into the capital by retreating soldiers, the situation here remained little changed.

Announce Mortalities
Single rifle shots were heard at frequent intervals all over the city as families learned from incoming soldiers of the deaths of husbands, sons or brothers and announced these deaths to their neighbors in the traditional Ethiopian manner—by firing one rifle shot.

The Red Cross unit evacuated Debra Brehan yesterday afternoon when the Italians could be seen advancing toward the village.

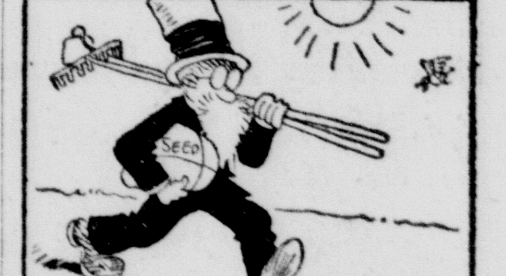

The British were compelled to abandon most of their equipment, they said, and all their medical supplies.

The fact the Italians are so close to Addis Ababa in such large numbers led to the belief a climax in the war can be expected shortly. Immense plans of Emperor Haile Selassie and his son, Crown Prince

New Mystery Enters Probe

Young Woman To Give Testimony Before Brooklyn Grand Jury

NAME GUARDED BY AUTHORITIES

(International News Service) NEW YORK, April 30.—A mysterious and pretty brunette, who will appear before the Brooklyn grand jury today, has provided the "big break" in the kidnapping of Paul H. Wendel, District Attorney Geoghan announced enigmatically early today.

The district attorney, while admitting he had subjected the young woman to three hours of grilling which ended at midnight, would not divulge her name. He likewise declined to discuss two sensational reports linked to the woman's sudden injection into the probe of the kidnapping and torture of the disbarred Trenton lawyer.

One was that she had told the authorities where to find Ellis Parker, Jr., and Murray Bleefeld, two of the five men indicted on charges of forcing Wendel to "confess" to the Lindbergh murder. The other was that she had information implicating high New Jersey officials in the kidnap plot.

Geoghan's only comment on the report was: "This young woman is not in custody now, but she may be. And nobody will know her name until she comes out of the grand jury room."

The mystery woman, said to be about 21 or 22, appeared suddenly at the Parkville police station in Brooklyn and was whisked into a rear room, where Geoghan and several detectives questioned her.

tions, officials were anticipating a complete federal grant of $2,300,000. So sure of this grant were state officials that an institutional improvement project to cost that amount was prepared.

The project, however, is still pending. It was learned, and the grant may not go through as planned. Should the state have to provide the required funds for the work, the problems of special session appropriation will be materially increased.

The institutional program was discussed completely at a conference yesterday afternoon. Several cabinet members were called in for the session, which lasted until late afternoon and was devoted principally to the administration's revenue program for the special session.

In Conference Commander John D. Pennington, secretary of welfare, and Ralph M. Bashore, secretary of labor and industry, worked over details of the institutional projects with other departmental heads and cabinet members called into the conference. Among those present were Secretary of Revenue John B. Kelly and Deputy Secretary Raymond E. Evleth; Guy J. Swope, budget director; Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti; David L. Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth, and Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways.

"Nothing definite in the way of an institutional program was presented," Pennington told International News Service. "The program is uncertain as yet and we're just trying to find out where we are heading."

Although he pointed out some state appropriation would be required to carry out the over-crowded program in state institutions, Governor Earle, in issuing his call for the session, indicated he was banking strongly on the federal grant to cut the amount the commonwealth would have to raise for the work to a minimum. If the grant is not made available, it was indicated, it will have to be provided for in the administration's taxation program which the governor will make public before the legislature meets next month.

STATE LEADERS LOOK TO FALL

the state's registered voters participated in Tuesday's lack-lustre election.

In the special elections to fill 10 legislative seats for the special session which opens next Monday, the Democrats gained one vote in the Republican-controlled senate while the house remained unchanged with the Democrats in control. The Rev. Frank W. Ruth, who resigned from the house where he served as Democratic floor leader, won the senate seat vacated by the death of James E. Norton, Berks.

Organizations Win Almost without exception candidates were victorious for party nomination to 25 senate seats and the full 208 places to be filled in the house next fall. The same generally held for the 34 congressional district nominations.

While Republican state chairman M. Harvey Taylor remained silent, David L. Lawrence, Democratic party chieftain, described the election results as "the handwriting on the wall for the Grundy-Mellon combine in Pennsylvania politics."

In the only state-wide balloting other than the presidential, Sen. Warren H. Roberts and F. Clair Ross were named Democratic auditor general and state treasurer candidates, and E. Arthur Sweeney and Frank L. Pinola, Republican candidates for the same respective offices, were given their party's nominations without a struggle.

Some other names were written on some of the ballots but the sentiment expressed indicated an avalanche of popular support for the Mercer county native on the part of local Republicans.

A South Side young man today is walking with a broad smile today. During Tuesday's election, one of the voters named him as a candidate for president of the United States.

While bids were taken some time ago and the contract apparently has been awarded, still nothing has been done towards actually removing the old frame house that almost leans up against the new federal building on the public square. Why not a little activity in the way of removal?

Paving along Highland avenue inside the street car tracks is in need of attention at a considerable number of places. There are some stretches for several blocks where a wonderful "washboard" condition exists.

Tomorrow is May Day. Indications are that it will be very quiet observed locally and throughout the district.

Pa New notes that WPA workmen completed the construction of the sidewalk along the Croton was Wednesday, and in a few days the walk will be available for use for the entire length. The new sidewalk covers a distance of approximately 500 yards.

A little garter snake reposes in a jar at the WPA tool house on South Croton avenue, having been captured on one of the WPA projects and placed in a glass jar.

In a few more days early fruit trees such as plum, pear and cherry, will be in bloom. Pa New noted today. The buds are almost ready to burst, and a few more days of the present kind of weather will bring them out.

Camp Fred L. Rentz, of the Y. M. C. A., along the banks of the winding Slippery Rock, may be quiet now but after July 7 it won't be. Never in "Y" history has there been such a large advance rush to register for the camp season. The summer promises association aides a busy time.

Months roll by and commencement seem to come often nowadays at Senior High school. Another, with a large class of graduates, will be held one month from next Tuesday, June 5. Principal Frank L. Orth will announce some of the graduation program plans shortly.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce hasn't let up on its "safe driving" campaign and doesn't intend to for a while. Just to preach safety first a little louder, the junior chamber committees, with Governor Earle's new safety committee for the county, will help sponsor a mass meeting for the representatives of the county's industries at The Castleton on Monday evening, May 4.

When the Knights of Columbus have their 38th anniversary dinner on Monday evening, May 4, it will be a significant occasion. St. Mary's Council, No. 512, has served the city well. The congratulations of Pa New are extended.

Pity the poor firemen these days. It is house burning time at the various fire stations throughout the city, and when the boys get home they run into worse and more of it.

John Pulmoski, 19, and his friends, Joseph Anton, 22, and a third youth, known as "Nicky," restrained him as he sought to rush back to his house, shoved him into an automobile and rushed him to the hospital.

Thirteen other persons, 10 of them children, fled for their lives as the spreading flames swept a neighboring house and damaged another. Flames wrecked the home of Stanley Zwadowny nearby and damaged the house of Mrs. E. George.

Bodies Recovered

The bodies were recovered later. The mother was lying under her bed which had fallen through the burning floor.

"I tried to get in to the children," Kulmoski related. "Through a hole in the roof I could see one standing up in bed, staring at the flames around her. I started in. There was another flash of fire and I was driven back."

"Nicky and a Negro were trying to get in to Nicky. Almost to the children but the flames walled him off. By that time the little girl was lying in bed. Her night clothing and her hair were blazing. Then the whole house crumpled."

A shipment of 1,400 was made Wednesday and another the same size today. The total number of eggs which have left the farm so far is approximately 4,500.

Expect 27,000 Eggs Over 1,000 eggs are being gathered from the fields every day and it is believed that the season will yield a grand total of about 27,000.

Last Thursday, Seth Gordon, executive secretary of the Game Commission, and Charles W. Wessell, chief of the division of propagation and game farms, both from Harrisburg, visited the farm on an inspection tour. This was Mr. Gordon's first visit to the local center since assuming office.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week, Mr. Warfel made a visit to Harrisburg and to the Fisher State Game Farm, near Poitstown, where he conferred and compared notes with those in charge.

Later word reaching the capital confirmed the Red Cross report that Mount Tarmadur had fallen into the hands of the Italians. The stronghold was held by only 330 men commanded by Captain Tamm, a Swedish officer. The defenders were compelled to retire in the face of the overwhelming Italian legions.

Treachery was feared, because a large number of Ethiopian forces failed to arrive at the mountain to aid in warding off the Italians. It was said the Ethiopians were forced to turn back because of a shortage of food while on the march.

Captain Tamm arrived in Addis Ababa this morning seeking reinforcements.

Women Fighting

Rome, April 30.—Rallying around Emperor Haile Selassie, Ethiopian women are fighting shoulder to shoulder with men in the first-line trenches of the Ethiopian "Hindenburg line" around Sasa Baneh, according to reports from the southern front today.

Several women prisoners have been taken by the Italian troops concentrated at Hanamel, it is reported.

Questioned by Italian military authorities, these women are said to have admitted they helped their men man the trenches, loading rifles for Ras Nasibu's soldiers and bringing up cartridges for machine guns from the rear.

Meanwhile, it was reported that heavy rains today were still holding up General Rodolfo Graziani's expected attack on the Ethiopian defenses, where a desperate battle has been raging but where the weather has blocked the Italian advance for more than a week.

Despite the downpour, it was learned, the Italian troops are still suffering from lack of drinking water. Although the local wells around Hanamel have improved and are now yielding 100,000 liters of water daily. But some 500,000 liters a day are necessary to keep the troops well supplied.

Capture Sasa Baneh

Rome, April 30.—Italian forces under General Rodolfo Graziani have occupied the important southern front Ethiopian town of Sasa Baneh after fierce battling with stubborn defenders, the government announced today.

The campaign to take this key point had been under way for more than a week. General Graziani's "hell on wheels" columns, after speeding northward in trucks and armored cars, encountered grave physical difficulties in addition to unusually bitter resistance by the Ethiopians.

The city was occupied yesterday afternoon, according to the official announcement.

Rainy weather, a shortage of water, and difficulty in moving supplies hindered the attacking Italians in their attempts to take Sasa Baneh.

The Ethiopians, under Ras Nasibu, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, and General Wehib Pasha, the Turkish commander, staunchly defended the city with repeated counter-attacks, almost continuously harassing the Italians.

The Italian public had been suffering announcement of the fall of Sasa Baneh eagerly for nearly two weeks. Its capture puts the Italians about 175 miles from Harar.

Italy's northern force in the Lake Tsana region has occupied the important caravan town of Debra Tablor, 35 miles east of the lake, it was claimed today.

Reorganization Of Relief Setup Strongly Urged

Would Setup Relief Activities On Bi-Partisan And Non-Political Basis

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, April 30.—Complete reorganization of relief activities on a bi-partisan, non-political basis was proposed today by Rep. Bacon (R) of New York as committee approval of a $1,500,000,000 WPA fund was forecast.

The plan, which may be made the basis of the Republican house fight on the administration's relief program, was laid before the appropriations subcommittee considering the forthcoming deficiency bill.

Despite Republican attacks upon the conduct of the WPA program by Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, no serious attempt was to be made to cut down the $1,500,000,000 asked by President Roosevelt.

"I am in favor of providing the money and of making relief activities as efficient as possible," said Bacon. "If we provided for appointment of bi-partisan boards in each state and subdivision and banned politics, we would save money for the government and provide more adequate aid for the needy."

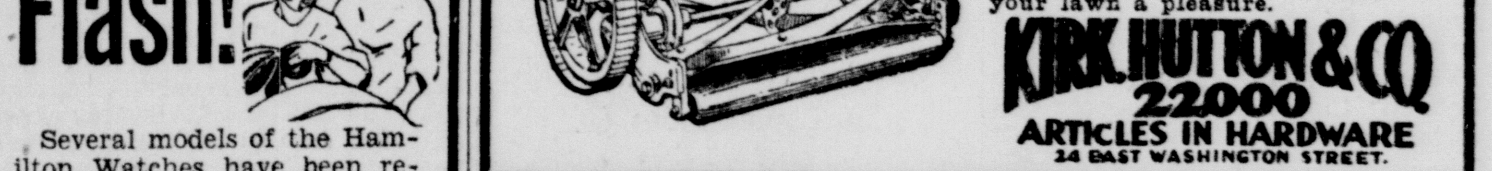

"We could get rid of the huge bureaucracy in Washington, permitting it merely to allocate the money to states and supervise relief."

The $1,500,000,000 WPA fund will be included in a deficiency bill which will exceed $2,300,000,000.

One King Dead. Next?
One Lynched; One Jumped.
Cotton Made Of Glass.
So Goes The News.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

LOS ANGELES, April 30.
KING FUAD, King of Egypt, dead, means nothing to 130,000,000 Americans or to fifteen hundred million other human beings on earth.

It means much to England, real ruler of Egypt, now obliged to find another king to "behave himself, do as England says," and hold down Egypt's anti-British hatred.

A MOB seized Lint Shaw, 50-year-old negro, and lynched him on "the usual charge," not waiting for a trial.

Joe Bowers, sentenced to 25 years for mail robbery, locked in the island fortress of Alcatraz, tried to escape by climbing ten feet of plain wire, two feet of barbed wire, and jumping down a 60-foot cliff into the water.

He climbed, while sharpshooter guards pumped bullets into him, and jumped down the cliff. The jump broke his neck; bullets from guards would have killed him anyway. Asked when "booked" at Alcatraz, "who is to be notified if you die," he replied:

"Nobody; nobody cares whether I die or not."

MRS. GRACE WARREN DUBOIS, 62 years old, was allowed to keep her seat while the judge sentenced her to life imprisonment for killing her son. Ordinarily convicts must stand for sentence.

It is said she thought her family "too aristocratic" to live in such times as these, and wished to kill them all. Another son testified against her.

FAMINE TIGHTENS its death grip on China, millions dead; more millions dying. That is a "short story" at the bottom of the page, and nearby on the same page a few lines tell that three million dollars of John D. Rockefeller money have been given to the Memorial hospital for the treatment of cancer.

Perhaps it is not a bad idea to let some individuals make money in order to do important things that people do not do for themselves.

EXPERTS THAT watch tremblings of the earth report two earthquakes of "more than moderate" intensity. Something has slipped inside this rolling ball, about 1,600 miles southwest of New York City.

HITLER apparently has chosen his successor "in case" in the person of Air Minister Goering, now made "assistant dictator" with control of two great German problems of raw materials and foreign exchange.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"DON'T YOU LOVE ME ANY MORE?"

THERE'S a guaranteed, tried-and-tested formula for killing love.... or, at least, discouraging it.

It isn't a secret. Millions of men and women know it and use it, and can testify sadly to its effectiveness. It's merely a question, a sentence of six words. You look sad, or you look, or you whine, or you let a tear roll down your cheek and you moan:

"Don't you love me any more?"

Say those six words and you put love on the defensive. You kill it as completely as Orpheus suffocated Desdemona with a pillow. You drive it away. You bore it to death. You change Love to Pity or to Contempt. Or you put it in chains it never quite gets free from again.

Just these six words do that. "Don't you love me any more?" These make you a beggar, a piteous mendicant of love. These show you are desperate and afraid and that you believe can be claimed as a right, as a debt.

Well, it cannot. You ask, "Don't you love me any more?" and the man or woman who hears your pathetic cry turns cold and shrinks from the appeal.

The woman feels contempt for you—you are not manly, you are not strong, you are not lovable then.

The man despises you—you are too weak for him, you have no charm at that moment, you are a clinging vine and he wishes you'd take your arms from around his neck.

The answer to your cry may be, "Of course, I love you," but even you can't believe it. Love never uses that impatient distant tone. Love speaks with a glance, with a touch of the hand and needs no trumpeting interpreter to announce his presence. And if he does, you may bring him back—but not with that beggar's cry of defeat:

"Don't you love me any more?"

Our daily daili: "My wife likes only one small spoonful of sugar in her coffee, but she never scolds me because I put three heaping ones in mine," said he.

AND NOW I'LL TELL ONE. It was an old, old riddle, but old Bill Thompson, now retired, had been so busy making money that he hadn't time to listen to riddles and jokes and so missed a lot of ancient ones like that one, about why is a husband like dough, to which the answer is (if you're an other Old Bill Thompson and never heard it) "because his wife needs him." Old Bill thought it would be a great joke to ask his wife to boss him and here was a chance to get even with her. He chuckled when he thought how crestfallen she's look when he told her the answer. And even if she had heard the riddle before and gave him the right answer, it would be something of a pleasure to hear her say, "because his wife needs him." They were at the second course of dinner that night when Bill thought it a good time to put over his little joke. "Maria," he asked sweetly, "do you know why a husband is like dough?" Maria looked at her husband's cheerful face quizzically. "Sure I do," she snapped. "Because it's so hard to get off your hand!"

Very few men keep up their cordial spirit after they get defeated for public office.

It will be interesting to see how the employers of labor in this country can pay higher wages and get taxed to the limit besides. We are living in an age where deception seems to rule the people. It cannot go along that way many years without a big bust.

A college girl told us she never aspired to study languages, explaining she can be bored enough with one.

NO MIDDLE COURSE

It seems that one chap rushed up to another one more or less excitedly and cried out: "Binks, the lawyer, is dead!" They found him lying on his back.

"Binks," queried the other calmly. "It can't be the same man. If it was Bink he'd be lying on either one side or the other."

It isn't until after they have learned by experience what the up-keep of a wife is that men discover they could not afford to marry.

Good Taste
By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL: When a young woman becomes interested in a young man and has had the privilege of meeting his parents and is anxious for her parents to meet him, may she, with propriety, invite them to her home?

Answer: If you and the young man have had "an understanding" and are thinking of becoming engaged, your parents, before giving their consent will, no doubt, wish to meet your future-in-laws. For this reason, you may properly invite them to your home.

If, on the contrary, your relationship with the young man is still casual with no definite thought of an engagement, there is no reason why you need, yet, have your families meet. In fact, if you take the initiative in this respect, your action might be misconstrued and the young man might feel that he is being "roped in."

Many a good "catch" has been frightened away by an aggressive woman. Wait until you have definite reasons for wanting your families to meet and then take this step.

Tax Bill Is Not Perfect.
Some Sections Unlawful.
Senate May Rewrite Law.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

THE TAX BILL will be rewritten by the senate because many sections are believed to be unconstitutional. Furthermore, the bill is so complicated that no one knows whether it will take in as much as present laws or more. It must take in nearly a billion more to be of any use.

NO INFLATION?
Crashing security prices and declining commodity prices seem to indicate that fear (or hope) of inflation has passed. That is not quite the case. A huge debt is in itself a form of inflation. At present, however, capital is frightened by the prospect of punitive taxes. It is frightened, too, by the case that "Left" governments come into power—as in France.

IN 1940?
There are many persons who believe that a Farmer-Labor coalition will win power in the United States in 1940—due to a failure of both Democratic and Republican parties to bring about fundamental economic improvements.

It must be remembered, observers point out, that it is not only the city unemployed, but the farm unemployed who are a problem. The United States has become largely a nation of absentee farm ownership. Wherever that has occurred in the past, through the centuries, there has been a serious breakup.

SOCIAL SECURITY
Four years hence, also, our social security measures may be considered a failure. Few states have complied with the federal regulations, in order to participate. State legislatures are governed largely by forces opposed to social security.

Proponents of the present measure assert that this opposition now may result in "drastic" measures later—against which this one will seem weak and watery.

STUDEBAKER'S BOOK
Editors have been supplied for review a book written by John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education. This small volume, published by the National Home Library association, is titled "Plain Talk."

In it, Dr. Studebaker asserts: "Today, democracy stands more than ever in a great shadow. In the midst of chaos and the complexities

Today's Yesterdays—April 30, 1789—The first president was in fact what nearly every successor has been maliciously accused of being—a Wall Street president. Mr. Washington stood upon a balcony at Wall and Nassau, clad in plain, dark brown suit with knee breeches and white silk stockings, as he took the oath of office from Robert R. Livingston, chancellor of New York state.

April 30, 1798—The navy department was established. Benjamin Stoddart of Maryland, the first secretary, was a cavalry officer.

April 30, 1803—The aforementioned R. R. Livingston, who had been sent to Paris to buy the city of New Orleans and obtain control of the mouth of the Mississippi, bought without authority the entire Louisiana territory, comprising all or part of 13 present day states. All or nothing, said Barbe Marbois, acting for Bonaparte, so all it was; Mons. Marbois thought he had an excellent deal in unloading a lot of wilderness and savages on Livingston for 27 million dollars.

April 30, 1900—At 3 a. m. on a Monday morning, locomotive No. 638 of the Illinois Central R. R. was rolling toward Vaughan, Miss., pulling the Cannonball Express, and "all the switchmen knew by the engine's moans that the man at the throttle was Casey Jones." A freight train didn't pull into a siding fast enough, and No. 638 hit the rear end of it at 50 m. p. h.

Thus died John Luther Jones. And thus was born one of the best known American folk-songs, "Casey Jones."

We are testing whether this or any democracy can solve the problems forced upon it. To us falls the historic mission of making democracy work.

"Let those who want to establish an intellectual paternalism to protect the people from what is considered dangerous doctrine advocate such control, not in the name of democracy, but as part and parcel of a fascist program. Those devoted to democracy will resist such paternalism and intellectual strait-jacketing."

"If our (educational) profession believes in democracy, it must do its part in safeguarding our schools from the beginnings of dictatorship. To me, that means vigorous and united effort on the part of teachers and patriotic American citizens, not only to thwart specific threats to academic freedom, but to improve our education so that we may more adequately and competently meet the heavy demands which democracy makes upon its citizens for intelligent action."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

INDIAN POETS.
Western Pennsylvania is full of Indian names. There is the Shenango River, for example.

Does any reader know what "Shenango" in the Indian language means? I thought I had come near being able to translate it when I read Amelie Rives' "Hearts Courageous." I saw where the ancient name of the Shenandoah was "Shennando." Amelie Rives says that translated into English, it means "The Daughter of the Stars." The Indians must have, on clear nights, seen in the clear waters of that river the stars reflected, and so named it.

Indians are an imaginative people. Many of their words express pure poetic imagery.

Perhaps the "Shennando" is of the same derivation as the Shenango. Does anyone know?

CHOICE
Each to his own desire must keep,
And who is there to say
That all must plough and plant and reap
And hoard the gain away?
And who shall bid us toil for fame
Or kneel at fortune's throne,
When some may have a gentler aim
They choose to make their own?

While some there are who welcome strife
Nor want its dim to cease,
Some find the lasting joys of life
Along the ways of peace.
Let him who will spend all his powers
His fortune to secure,
The man who gives his heart to flowers
May happier be, though poor.

What pleases you or gladdens me
Another man may scorn.
Some will not quit their beds to see
The sun come up at dawn.
They'd rather sleep the time away
Than morning skies behold,
And some would rather poor men stay
Than kill themselves for gold.

Veterans Should Give Notice Of Address Change

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—New Castle veterans who have changed their address since applying for bonus bonds should notify the Pittsburgh regional office of the change if they wish to avoid complications in the delivery of their bonds.

It was said today at the veterans' administration here that the post office department will be very strict about delivering the bonds. Postal officials, they said, will not forward the bonds after they have been delivered to one address and the veteran to whom they are addressed is found to have moved elsewhere. If a veteran wishes the bonds delivered to his new address he should advise the regional facilities and the bonds will be mailed to that new location directly.

Bonds must be signed for directly by the veteran to whom they are addressed, it was stated.

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED BY BUTLER INCREASING SALARY FOR CITY OFFICE

Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, was not reappointed during council session today at city hall but probably will be as soon as a bill introduced today by Councilman B. F. Butler, becomes a city law.

The Butler measure provides that the position of city engineer call for a salary of $3,000 annually to become effective May 4. The bill was sent to a committee, reported out favorably and probably will be adopted Monday.

Throop succeeded the late Harry Hoskins, whose salary by ordinance called for $3,000 a year. The former council by ordinance, cut Throop's salary to $2,500 and Butler's bill, if adopted will restore the annual wage to the former figure.

During the meeting council also discussed ways and means of cutting down the expense of printing ordinances and literature used by city hall officials and employees. Several ways of doing this were mentioned.

The city now pays $1.00 a page for printed ordinances, according to reports. It was suggested that the printing of ordinances in print shops be abandoned and the printing be done by city hall employees on a mimeograph.

City Clerk C. Ed. Brown estimated, at the request of council that, during the past two years the city has printed 60 ordinances, each with an average of two pages, which probably cost the city for that time, $120.00.

Council said the cost of individual stationery in city hall has been high. The envelopes are already stamped when bought. The councilmen have their names and departments printed on the stationery.

C. Ed. Brown, city clerk, suggested that a rubber stamp be used. He said that when letters were mailed to people in New Castle, subordinate could use the rubber stamp on the envelopes. This would eliminate printing on stationery.

B. F. Butler, director of streets, said that in his opinion mailing of letters outside the city with a return address printed with a rubber stamp would "cheapen the city."

Councilman J. L. Fink, head of the finance department, said unstamped envelopes costs little and that each councilman could apply his own stamp to an envelope. He said by buying large quantities of stamped envelopes the city's money is tied up.

Council did not take definite action toward adopting the mimeograph-rubber stamp plan. This was held before council within the last week. The proposed shift is planned as an economical move.

Delay Action In Naming Throop

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED BY BUTLER INCREASING SALARY FOR CITY OFFICE

Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, was not reappointed during council session today at city hall but probably will be as soon as a bill introduced today by Councilman B. F. Butler, becomes a city law.

The Butler measure provides that the position of city engineer call for a salary of $3,000 annually to become effective May 4. The bill was sent to a committee, reported out favorably and probably will be adopted Monday.

Throop succeeded the late Harry Hoskins, whose salary by ordinance called for $3,000 a year. The former council by ordinance, cut Throop's salary to $2,500 and Butler's bill, if adopted will restore the annual wage to the former figure.

During the meeting council also discussed ways and means of cutting down the expense of printing ordinances and literature used by city hall officials and employees. Several ways of doing this were mentioned.

The city now pays $1.00 a page for printed ordinances, according to reports. It was suggested that the printing of ordinances in print shops be abandoned and the printing be done by city hall employees on a mimeograph.

City Clerk C. Ed. Brown estimated, at the request of council that, during the past two years the city has printed 60 ordinances, each with an average of two pages, which probably cost the city for that time, $120.00.

Council said the cost of individual stationery in city hall has been high. The envelopes are already stamped when bought. The councilmen have their names and departments printed on the stationery.

C. Ed. Brown, city clerk, suggested that a rubber stamp be used. He said that when letters were mailed to people in New Castle, subordinate could use the rubber stamp on the envelopes. This would eliminate printing on stationery.

B. F. Butler, director of streets, said that in his opinion mailing of letters outside the city with a return address printed with a rubber stamp would "cheapen the city."

Councilman J. L. Fink, head of the finance department, said unstamped envelopes costs little and that each councilman could apply his own stamp to an envelope. He said by buying large quantities of stamped envelopes the city's money is tied up.

Council did not take definite action toward adopting the mimeograph-rubber stamp plan. This was held before council within the last week. The proposed shift is planned as an economical move.

Record Broken By Capt. Eyston Today

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 30.—The world's record for speed in a Diesel-motored automobile was held today by Capt. George Eyston, British racing driver, who sent his huge "flying spray" over the Bonneville Salt Flats near Wendover, Utah 110 miles west of here at 158.87 miles per hour Wednesday.

Eyston on the same run negotiated a measured kilometer in 159.099 miles an hour, the fastest speed recorded for this distance.

Wednesday's run was made over the same course on which Sir Malcolm Campbell last summer hurtled his Bluebird at 301 miles an hour. The salt beds were slightly sticky due to a light rain in the morning.

The previous record for a Diesel-powered machine, according to A. A. A. officials here, was 136 miles an hour.

To boil fish, put two bay leaves, a slice of lemon, a small onion sliced, and a few peppercorns in water and bring to boil. Let boil for 10 minutes or more, until the flavor of the seasonings has permeated the water, then lower fish in, wrapped in a cloth, and boil gently until done—about 20 minutes.

President Will Press Four-Point Platform

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Nearly two months in advance of the convening of the Democratic national convention, President Roosevelt's re-election platform today stood virtually complete.

Between now and November, in the course of a series of far-flung speaking tours, the president will hammer home to the voters a four-point program as the basis of his bid for another term in the White House. Without waiting to see who the Republicans nominate to oppose him, or which issues the G. O. P. platform will stress, Mr. Roosevelt has committed himself to the following:

For Price Increase. 1. A further increase in prices, both of manufactured goods and agricultural products, through controlled inflation which will attain "a reasonably stable and constant price level."

2. Continued federal regulation of farm production.

3. A pledge that the administration will move to reduce working hours, at the same time maintaining wage levels, if industry fails to take the step voluntarily.

4. Continued federal spending for unemployment relief so long as the necessity exists.

In carrying this formula to the electorate, those closest to him say, Mr. Roosevelt will concentrate on two immediate objectives.

First, he will seek to convince the farmer and the city man their problems are mutual to a point they are completely interdependent.

Second, he will press for the support of the six to seven million voters who have come of age since 1932.

The president already has outlined his re-election platform fairly comprehensively in the four major speeches he has made since last November at Atlanta, Chicago, Baltimore and New York.

In all four of these addresses, the executive stressed the need for greater purchasing power. In all four, he argued that the urbanite and the country man must walk hand in hand if both are to survive. Similarly, in each city, he promised more cash in the working man's pay envelope. Finally, he told each audience that government funds would continue to be pumped into unemployment relief so long as they are needed.

England To Quiz Hitler

Will Ask Chancellor Some Questions About Austrian Independence

REPORT HITLER TO MAKE DECLARATION

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 30.—Amid fears aroused by British press reports of military activity on both sides of the Austro-German border, the British cabinet met today to deliberate on the questionnaire Britain will submit to Chancellor Adolf Hitler regarding Austrian independence.

It is planned to ask the Fuehrer whether he will agree to maintenance of Austrian independence. It was also stated a query regarding Hitler's claims to colonies may be included in the questionnaire.

Well-informed quarters say Hitler is preparing an important declaration regarding Austria, in which he will state he recognizes the independence of Austria, but that Austrians, as free Germanic peoples, should have the right to determine what sort of government they wish to have.

Hitler is also expected to maintain the Austrian people should be free to say whether they desire Anschluss (union) with Germany.

The government asked its embassy in Berlin and legation in Vienna for information regarding yesterday's reports of German and Austrian troop movements.

Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador in Berlin, replied that the German government officially denied any German troop movements.

Council met in the city building this morning and upon the recommendation of both Fire Chief James E. Thomas and Police Chief John F. Haven, issued a permit to J. E. United States Ready To Match Naval Strength Committee Reports Biggest Peacetime Naval Supply

Bill In History

PLANS FOR NAVY SECOND TO NONE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Declaring for a navy second to none, and authorizing construction of two battleships, the house appropriations committee today reported the biggest peacetime naval supply bill in history.

The measure carries $531,068,707 to operate the navy in the fiscal year beginning July 1. The sum is $49,337,328 above last year's figure, but slices the presidential budget by $18,522,595.

The committee served notice on the world that the United States will observe all treaty limits, but is ready to match the naval program of other nations.

As its report was made public the British admiralty was laying before the house of commons budget proposals calling for the immediate construction of two new battleships, five cruisers and other auxiliary craft.

Two New Ships

Because of the failure of the London naval conference, and Great Britain's proposal to build two new battleships, the committee authorized:

"Commencement of not more than two capital ships, as replacements of over-age capital ships, to be undertaken only in the event that capital ship replacement construction is commenced by any of the other signatory powers to the treaty for the limitation and reduction of naval armaments signed at London April 22, 1930."

The provision is approved by President Roosevelt. In its report, the committee estimated the cost of building a 35,000-ton battleship at $50,000,000.

Fighting Navy

Other provisions designed to give the United States a "fighting navy" include:

Navy enlisted strength raised from 93,000 to 100,000; marine corps from 16,000 to 17,000. Navy authorized to begin building 23 new destroyers and eight submarines at a total cost of $113,195,800.

Grants $184,500,000 to carry on construction of 84 warships.

Fund of $45,410,000 for the navy air corps permitting purchase of 33 new planes next year.

Emphasizing the American naval policy, the committee report said: "The Vinson-Trammell act is in consonance with the declared naval policy to have and support a navy second to none, subject of course to any existing treaty provisions."

Swanson "Planned"

The full cost of maintaining a "treaty navy" the committee estimated will be about $555,000,000 a year. The committee criticized Sec'y. of the Navy Swanson for a disregard of the estimated maximum.

The committee approved $150,000 for construction of a graving dock at Mare Island, Calif., $900,000 for improvement of the channel and harbor at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii and $225,000 for mooring facilities; $260,000 for extension of the San Diego hospital, and $225,000 for the naval radio station in Hawaii.

It disapproved proposed expenditure of several million dollars for dredging equipment to be used at Pearl Harbor, pending study.

Assessing that it will cost more to manufacture airplanes in the government factory at Philadelphia than in privately-owned factories, the committee attached a "rider" to the bill, barring building of other than experimental engines and airplanes.

Better Mail Service At Grove City Now

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, April 30.—Lack of railway mail service, reduced to one train daily each way, has not decreased the mail service, it is pointed out by Postmaster Olive McCoy.

The new summer railroad schedule, making little change, went into effect this week.

At one time, Grove City had four daily trains each direction, with Pullman and dining car service. Now, a train south at 7:57 a. m., and north at 6:13 p. m., is the only rail outlet. However, mail is dispatched and received four times daily, by bus, with connection at Sharon and New Castle providing the best service ever afforded Grove City.

The United States has only 95,643 motorcyclists as compared with 986,427 in Germany (including the Saar) and 548,461 in Great Britain.

Royalty See Infante Married

Two hundred and fifty members of Bourbon royalty attended the wedding of Princess Alice of Bourbon-Parma, a niece of the Empress Zita, to the Infante Alfonso of Bourbon, a nephew of the former King of Spain. The wedding was performed in Vienna by Cardinal Innitzer. Bride and bridegroom are shown leaving the church after the ceremony. (Central Press)

Says CCC Saves 40,000 Acres Of Forest In State

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—C.C.C. workers have saved 40,000 acres of Pennsylvania forest lands from fire in the three years since the CCC was formed. Director Robert Fechner said today in a summarization of the corps' work in that state.

They built 2,474 miles of forest truck trails, two thousand and hundred odd miles of foot and horse trails, 438 bridges, 58 lookout houses and towers, and cleared 13,521 acres of forest lands of fire hazards. In other forest work, they planted 14,078,000 trees, improved 77,504 acres of forest stands, and made timber surveys covering 1,124,465 acres.

The CCC, Fechner said, has provided employment for varying periods for 107,146 Pennsylvanians, of whom 97,303 were young men or war veteran enrollees. It is estimated that these enrollees sent home to their dependents, $15,566,000 of their earnings. The state now has 106 camps, with 21,200 men.

The committee is elected every two years and the chairman of the old committee calls the new committee members together for the purpose of organization.

William R. Hanna, chairman of the Democratic county committee, will also call the new Democratic committee together for the purpose of organization.

Two Amateurs Are Given Praise

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, April 30.—Valuable assistance rendered by two local radio amateurs in the recent mobilization of the National Guard units for service in the Johnstown flood area, is praised by Major-General E. C. Shannon, and Col. C. B. Smathers, in letters to Paul Meyers and Paul Gies.

The two young men operated their short-wave sending sets for many hours, when the regular communication lines were crippled by high water, notifying the various companies in the 112th Regiment.

Four Congress Aspirants Lose

Four Incumbents Are Defeated In Primary Balloting On Tuesday

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—Four of Pennsylvania's 34 congressmen, all of whom sought re-nomination, were cast aside by the voters in Tuesday's primary election, a check of complete unofficial returns disclosed today. Three were Democrats and one a Republican.

Those who fell by the wayside were William E. Richardson, Berks county Democrat, who lost to Guy L. Moser, of Douglassville, a former postal inspector who had the endorsement of Father Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice.

Congressman J. Twing Brooks, Allegheny Democrat, was defeated by Peter J. Demuth, another Coughlin-supported candidate.

The third incumbent to lose was Congressman Theodore L. Moritz, Allegheny Republican, who elected with both party nominations two years ago. Barred by the anti-party raiding law from dual candidacy, Moritz, who was backed by the Union for Social Justice, lost to Jacob E. Kalson.

Congressman William M. Berlin, who antagonized Democratic leaders in Westmoreland county, was beaten in an out-and-out political fight by Robert G. Allen, of Greensburg, a former district WPA director.

Local Lodge Members Going To Indiana Sunday For Installation Meeting

Another link in the ever-growing chain of B'Nai B'Rith lodges will be installed at Indiana on Sunday afternoon, May 3, at 2:30. This is the third lodge to be installed of the group of lodges that have become a part of the parent organization, within the past month. All three of these lodges were organized by Isador Sobel, past president of the district, president of the Erie County Bar association, and chairman of the board at the Erie Orphanage.

Mr. Sobel urges as many as possible of the New Castle members to be on hand at Indiana Sunday afternoon. Transportation will be arranged for all members desiring to go, if they will contact either President Ted Marlin or the secretary, Dr. Henry Sloan. Those having accommodations are also urged to inform the above as to the number of passengers they can handle.

President Ted Marlin is anxious that a representative group attend the always beautiful installation, which will be handled by Past President Woik of Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh degree team. Groups from the surrounding communities are certain to be on hand, and an interesting program is assured by the newly organized lodge.

Girl With Metal Cap In Lung Is Quite Serious

(International News Service)
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 30.—The condition of Pauline Lane, 16-year-old girl who swallowed an inch-long metal cap last Friday while laughing, today was described by physicians as "serious."

Hope was expressed that she may improve sufficiently within five or six days to permit another operation for removal of the top part of a cigarette lighter from her left lung.

Breathing almost entirely with her right lung, the girl lay listlessly in the hospital. She was unaware that specialists had failed to remove the object with an especially designed forceps sent from Philadelphia.

When the oversized forceps arrived from Dr. Chevalier Jackson, Philadelphia specialist, an X-ray revealed the object had shifted from an upright to a diagonal position in the lung. During a 30-minute operation, specialists failed to grasp it with the instrument inserted through a tube.

Eckert Votes For New Tax Measure

Hugh S. Johnson

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Representative Charles R. Eckert of Beaver followed Democratic leaders and voted for the Administration's new tax bill passed this week by the House of Representatives.

Last week, Mr. Eckert told the House he regarded the bill as violating the canons of a good tax measure but indicated he would probably support it anyhow.

The congressman this week voted against a resolution which would have made public a report by General Hugh S. Johnson assailing the WPA. Mr. Johnson made the report to the President after retiring as WPA Administrator of New York City. The House rejected the resolve proposing this be made public.

British Defense Budget Outlined

First Of Series Of Budgets
For National Defense Set
At $51,500,000

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 30.—The first of an anticipated series of budget estimates for national defense was made public today when the British admiralty called for an additional 10,500,000 pounds sterling ($51,500,000).

Viscount Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, explained the money was needed to make a start in the naval construction program already authorized for 1936 and to continue the protective measures necessitated by the Italo-Ethiopian war, which caused Britain to concentrate and maintain a huge fleet of warships in the Mediterranean.

He said the funds would provide also for other rearmament measures outlined in the government's white paper on defense measures early last month.

Build New Ships

Three million pounds ($15,000,000) will be devoted to starting construction of two new British battleships, five cruisers, nine destroyers, one aircraft carrier and 22 smaller naval vessels, Viscount Monsell explained. He further stated the supplementary funds will enable the admiralty to begin important improvements in ammunition, fuel stocks and other stores, re-equipment of the fleet's air arm and supply of anti-aircraft guns to the fleet.

He said an additional 2,000,000 pounds ($10,000,000) will be spent on Britain's Singapore naval base, while four cruisers of the Hawkins class, which were to be scrapped under the London naval treaty, will be retained.

Three of the cruisers will have 7.1 inch guns replaced by guns of less than 6.1 inch calibre. The fourth will be used for training purposes.

AROUND CITY HALL

Less than a month remains until Cascade Park is opened for the summer season. A force of laborers has been put to work so that the recreation center will be in picnic shape long before May 30. Parks Director J. D. Alexander stated yesterday he will recommend to council that it take early action toward renting Cascade Park dance hall. A new cookhouse is to be built in the grove, he added.

Warm weather has arrived and it was not accompanied here as usual by a wave of auto stealing. This may be due to the capture and punishment meted out in the past to auto thieves. For some time a squad of police has been trying to keep auto rifting at a minimum. Not many reports of articles being stolen from cars have been received recently.

Solicitors are remaining away from city hall, due no doubt, to the large sign placed by council on the first floor of city hall. Everyone with anything to sell paged councilmen as their first victims, according to officials. People with tickets to sell lost a harvest when the sign barring solicitors was posted on the wall.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PASTIMES FOR CHILD
IN CASE YOU, mother, find time moving slowly with you and your active child from three to five years of age, some of the following types of amusement may prove alluring and worthwhile to him. For each type you can easily make up many more samples, from time to time. Ask him:

1. Which is the heavier, salt or flour? (Maybe he will want to find out for himself.) 2. Which is the bigger, ship or cow? 3. Which cost more, top or tricycle? 4. Finish this: "Little Boopie—" 5. How many bears in the story of Goldilocks? 6. Say more words that sound like these: ice, rice, spice. 7. Which can run the fastest, boy, turtle, horse? 8. In what way are a newspaper and book alike? Then make up riddles like this: I am thinking of something. It eats bugs and flies and worms. I can find it in the garden. It hops. What is it?

Here is a captivating exercise for the child from three to five. Get several small cardboard boxes. On the side of each fasten an object as nail, screw, match, stick, pebble, piece of crayon. Then have a lot of all these objects mixed up in another larger box. The game will be to assort these articles into the respective boxes. The mental process involved is of a high order and the activity very fascinating. This game can be varied in all sorts of ways. You could set the games without boxes at all. The articles could be placed in piles on the table. Nevertheless, boxes make the game more interesting. Big brother or sister might want to make a special set of wooden bins joined together for this purpose.

For Older Child
Jokes and conundrums are always interesting to the child of school age. Fortunate the child whose parents encourage him in efforts at observing and expressing humor.

What is more delightful than to hear a child of ten or fifteen freely and naturally expressing himself in the family conversation? Those who do have parents who understand children and treat these children with deserved respect.

For your encouraging letters to me and to the editor of this paper about my column, I am always grateful. Never do I consider it a hardship to answer personally all your letters, although I spend on the average a day a week doing so.

SIEGE AT TRENTON, N.J. IS ABANDONED

Workers Alliance Quits State House

Demonstrators Depart Under Orders Of Legislators Early Today

SIEGE LASTED FOR MORE THAN WEEK

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TRENTON, N. J., April 30.—Muttering a few more potent epithets, the Rag-Tag Workers Alliance "army of unoccupation" meekly abandoned its 9½-day siege of the state assembly chamber early today, thereby bringing to an end one of the strangest spectacles ever witnessed in this historic capital.

The demonstrators, who marched into the state house a week ago Tuesday vowing to remain until adequate state relief legislation should be passed, departed under the orders of the legislature.

Before they left they saw the legislature pass a bill junking state relief administration altogether and throwing the relief burden back on municipalities.

Order Is Preserved.

There were a few shouts of "skunks" and "double-crossers" from the galleries as the legislators walked out of the chamber after adjournment. But there was no threat of trouble at any time and the large force of troopers and state house police stationed at strategic points through the assembly chamber and state house corridors had nothing to do.

The legislature convened at 8:30 last night after the demonstrators' mock assembly jovially "recessed" to go to the gallery. There were about 200 members of the latter.

For the first time since the siege began, the real assemblymen appeared to be in a bristling frame of mind.

One of the first acts of business was consideration of a resolution by Republican Assemblyman Joseph Paul of Newark, calling for exclusion of the demonstrators from the capital.

There was not a sound from the tattered throng in the gallery as the resolution was adopted by unanimous vote.

Neither was there any disturbance three hours later when the assembly, after a long argument, voted adoption of the bill abolishing state relief. The vote was 49 to 2. The vote in the senate was 19 to 0.

Under the new bill, which will become law as soon as Governor Hoffman signs it, local municipalities will take over the burden of relief, which has been costing the state about $3,000,000 a month. Only those communities who prove they are unable to care for their poor will get aid from the state, out of a special revolving fund, probably of about $5,000,000.

The new bill will cost 3,080 workers of the State Emergency Relief Administration their jobs, effective today.

What little opposition there was to the bill, was offered by Democrats who objected to what they termed transfer of relief control to the Republicans.

Plans for the annual observance of Memorial Day here will be outlined at a meeting of the heads of the various patriotic and veterans organizations together with committees appointed by these organizations, in the Legion Home, promptly at 7:30 this evening.

Orville Potter will preside as chairman pro-tem, and a chairman and officers and committees will be named at this meeting.

Police Eligibility List Requested

Mayor Charles E. McGrath during council today requested council to ask the civil service board for a list of eligible police appointees. The request was granted.

The list may be presented to council Monday. It is proposed to name four or five policemen, who after being appointed, will be sent to the State police school at Hershey, for training. They will each receive $50.00 compensation for their maintenance, each month for four months after which they will return here and be put to work.

Great Britain has 13 motor cars to every mile of roadway. The United States has eight.

My New York By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Ass'n.)

NEW YORK, April 30.—The death of Percy Hammond removed from metropolitan dramatic criticism one of the talents it could least afford to lose. Urbane, kindly and possessive of a rapid wit and sense of the sound and lilt of words, he was an ornament to a department of journalism which for the last few years has had to do with too many second-raters.

Particularly in these times has he been a valuable stanchion against the rabble-writers, the propaganda playwrights, the nostrum vendors of the theater. He saw clearly and wrote lucidly; he asked that the theater present recognizable human beings in recognizable human situations, and when a play was less than fine his article upon it was often the merriest and most memorable monument of the script.

Hammond was not, like so many of his brethren, simply a playwright who had failed. He was a critic from the beginning and a very superior critic, as much an artist as any of the playwrights whose works he assayed. I can think of no one the theater will miss more.

Cynthia White is in these eyes the town's most extraordinary press agent and promoter. A pleasant, plump, handsome lady in the middle years, she packs twice the vitality of Ruby Keeler and Eleanor Powell put together. Her peace and resistance each year is the Greenwich Village Ball.

This season she made a special trip to Mexico in order to give the fete a new decor. The result was a carnival as Mexican as a tamale and as tangibly seasoned. No one got home while the sky was dark.

Next day after a ball it is Cynthia's custom to hold her annual levee. Every celebrity of Greenwich Village and the uptown reaches pilgrims to her lower Fifth avenue apartment, where she is fresh and gay with repartee as a debutante. Few callers are aware that she has not been to bed all night in the performance of her duties as hostess for the ball.

It is a bromide by now that all New Yorkers know anything at all about this town of his. The tourists quickly become experts and a visitor I once knew from Minnesota used to delight in telling how he had directed a metropolitan cop lost in the subway mazes beneath Grand Central.

Sally Eilers, a New Yorker born and bred (to the age of 6, anyhow), returned here not long ago with her husband, Harry Joe Brown, the producer. They decided to find out something about New York for the first time. And so they went on a rubber-neck spree—the Empire State building, Grant's Tomb, Chinatown, the Statue of Liberty and the Aquarium.

The foray was so successful that Sally has made up her mind to see Los Angeles and Hollywood in the same way when she returned to the coast.

I spent an evening not long ago in the company of Henry Dennis, editor and publisher of the Hender-son, N. C., "Dispatch"—and came away warmed by the thought that not much evil could befall a nation in which the organs of news still have editors like him: sound, quiet, patriotic folk who are not to be panicked or converted by the crack-pots and pink-flag wavers.

Living in New York you are apt to forget how many rugged, original-mold Americans survive. It is good to be reassured.

New Low Record At Grove City

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, April 30.—Only 23 per cent of borough voters cast their ballots at Tuesday's primary election, to set a new low record. The lack of interest was due to the few contests, and was especially noticeable in the Republican vote. Although the registration here is 5-to-1 Republicans, it is believed that only twice as many Republicans voted as did Democrats.

Victory in the Democratic factional fight between the Dexter-Smith forces and the Dilley-Cusick group, for control of the county, went to Dr. Edith McBride-Dexter and Major W. G. Smith, the latter of this city, in this district, where pluralities of 3-to-1 were rolled up for the Dexter-Smith candidates for state and county committee.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Faint Praise For Roosevelt

Speeches Viewed In Retro-spect By Democrats Fail To Arouse Enthusiasm

FELL EFFORTS NOT UP TO PAR

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S Street.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, April 30—Presi-dent Roosevelt's recent speeches have been damned with rather faint praise in political Washington.

It was to have been expected that Republican politicians would damn them, and they have done so with praise sufficiently faint to be decid-edly below zero. However, very sotto voce, Democrats have done a bit of the damning, not violently, like the Republicans, but in a tone of mild disappointment. Not, they say, that the presidential speeches in Balti-more and in New York were other-wise than excellent, but they were not quite as excellent as the Demo-cratic critics had expected them to be. This is faint praise, as I inter-pret that kind of damnation.

TOO GENERALISTIC?

The stock complaint of the presi-dent's oratory is that it deals too much in generalities—stuff that no-body can dispute, but which does not guarantee anything specific.

For example:
In New York, the White House tenant pointed out that rural and urban interests in the long run are identical. Certainly. But it is obvi-ous that the farmer and the "city slicker" don't feel that way about it in practice. How reconcile them?

The New York speech left the an-swer to that question to the imagi-nation.

At Baltimore there was a ringing appeal to youth to "stand by" for better times, but no explanation of the fashion in which times are to be bettered.

DON'T STAND ANALYSIS?
Briefly, the political verdict is that, while the presidential talks are wonderfully inspiring over the radio, in print they don't stand much analysis.

And radio experts are beginning to whisper that the national chief executive tends to grow a trifle "stale" on the air. They don't pro-fess to know exactly why. Maybe, they say, the listeners-in are getting used to him.

The suggestion likewise is made that the White House suffers from the lack of a Louis McHenry Howe. The president's late adviser was out of commission for months before his recent death. The slump, if any, in the quality of presidential utter-ances, post-dates the beginning of Howe's final illness. Howe assured-ly was not, in the literal sense, a "ghost writer" but he was an extra-ordinary astute counsellor. He may not be known much of the sci-ence of government, but he was a publicity man par excellence.

A PARADOX

However, what of it?
The Democrats are confident that they will win in November, regard-less of everything. This is not a mere claim. They honestly believe it. So does everyone who follows po-litics. The Republican management is included. It hopes to gain a lit-tle, but not to win. And it realizes that Rooseveltianism has been gaining lately.

It is paradoxical.
Poor presidential speeches; Nev-ertheless, presidential gains!

A "RATIFICATION MEETING"

The Democratic convention in Philadelphia simply will be a ratifi-cation meeting.
President Roosevelt will be nomi-nated automatically. The adminis-tration doesn't like Vice President John N. Garner, but he'll be nomi-nated, just the same, to avoid any appearance of discord.
Past Republican conventions have had to be artistically prolonged to prevent them from seeming too per-functory. Democratic conventions as in New York, in 1924, have drag-ged out unpleasantly. This time the Republican convention in Cleveland must be hustled to avoid an appear-ance of a clash. The Democrats' Philadelphia convention must be dragged out, to give Philadelphia hotel and business men a run for their money.

Dr. Guy Morse Bingham, national-ly known vocational guidance lec-turer of Washington, D. C., was the guest speaker before the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at The Castleton Wednesday.
An extensive traveler who speaks before clubs and business organi-zations and sales forces throughout the country, Dr. Bingham came here to address the Kiwanians on "The Right Mental Attitude in Life." He discussed the principles and laws in the philosophy of suc-cess, in what he termed the "crown of gold."

Under the auspices of the Ki-wanis club, Dr. Bingham spoke Wednesday morning before the Senior high school students. He spoke informally to the seniors of the school Wednesday afternoon.
Clement D. Parker, chairman of the vocational guidance committee of the club, introduced him at the luncheon and at Senior high.

On Court House Hill

Registration Clerk Thomas Ed-munds reports that the registration lists which were distributed with the ballots for the primary have all been returned in good shape. Several of the judges forgot to bring the lists back, but made a special trip after them.

About a truck load of unused bal-lots was brought to the county com-missioners' office by election judges who brought in the returns. Under the law they will be kept for two years before being destroyed. It is the intention to store them in the basement of the court house. In making out the order for ballots it is necessary to provide enough to go around if every voter should be at the polls. As there was a light vote, it automatically increased the num-ber of returns.

Every time an election is held there is some district that holds up the compilation of an election table by dilatoriness in getting in the re-turns. This time it was the second district of Slippery Rock township, South New Castle borough and Union township, fourth, were also slow in getting in. Most of the election boards had their returns in before 11 o'clock Wednesday.

Fewer errors in the preparation of the returns were made by election boards this year. In the city in-structions were given by Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds at a meeting held at the court house, and the boards seem to have profit-ed by it. Country boards also did better than usual. There were a few instances where the votes cast for certain candidates were omitted from the return sheet intended for the public but they will probably be allright on the tally sheets, which will be opened Friday.

There was quite a spirited contest for places on the Republican coun-ty committee in the second precinct of Shenango township with William D. Walton and George T. Weingart-ner winning places on the commit-tee.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Less Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.
All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on "burn up" ex-cess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this con-dition by feeding this gland the sub-stance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.
Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with star-vation diets or back-breaking exer-cises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used suc-cessfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

Liquor Control Board Hearing In Local Case

New Castle Woman's Plea For Liquor License Renewal Heard

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Intimations she knew little of the method of conducting a restaurant business Wednesday brought tears to the eyes of Mrs. Mary Thomas, proprietor of the Rex Cafe, (110 W. Washington St.) New Castle, as she appeared before the State Liquor Control Board for a renewal of the license for her establishment.

After tearfully answering questions of her counsel, M. G. Matheny, and counsel for the board, J. A. Wilner in a hearing before W. W. Wagner, member of the board, she explained: "I don't know how to run a restaurant business."

"Just because I have never before run a place in Pennsylvania it doesn't mean I don't know how to. I used to have a restaurant in West Virginia."

Mrs. Thomas' tears came after

Wilner presented a report of the board's investigator in which he charged the woman with being a "front" for her husband, an alleged "numbers" operator, and recommended the license application be turned down.

Parmelee Lets Former Mates Have Six Hits

Carl Hubbell Is Victim Of Cards Attack In 17th Inning; Score 2 To 1

PIRATES HAND PHILS DEFEAT

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Leroy Parmelee, known affectionately as "Tarzan," has obtained, with plenty to spare, the revenge all ball players are said to seek against clubs which ship them away.

The big right-hander who last season won 14 against 10 defeats as a New York Giant, was wearing a St. Louis Cardinal uniform yesterday when he met his old playmates, and he pitched the most spectacular game of the season to score a victory in 17 innings.

Cardinals Win.
Over that arm-cracking marathon distance, Parmelee stopped the Giant hitters with six safe blows, struck out nine and won by 2 to 1.

He gained added satisfaction from the victory in making it a personal triumph over Carl Hubbell, the screwball king and long the ace of the Giant staff. Hubbell allowed 11 hits.

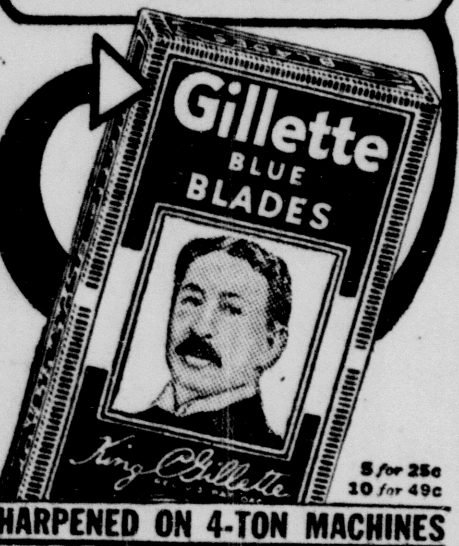

The other major highlight of the day was furnished by Lefty Vernon Gomez, the Yankee fire-baller, who turned in a three-hit performance against Cleveland to win his third game in four starts and boost the Yanks into second place in the standings. The Yanks made 11 hits off Thornton Lee and Hudlin, and won, 6 to 1.

Van Lingle Mungo, backbone of the Brooklyn mound corps, allowed only one run, but the Cubs won, 1 to 0. Catcher Gabby Hartnett drove in the winning marker and started a double play that nipped a Dodger uprising. Bill Lee pitched the victory.

Pirates Top Phils.
Pittsburgh took the only other National league game, when Hurler Walter of the Phils hit a batter with the bases loaded in the 11th and forced in a run. The score was 10 to 9.

Pete Appleton of Washington held the champion Detroit Tigers to two hits, but one was a homer by Al Simmons, as the Senators won.

Softball League Meeting Friday

Schedule Will Be Adopted, Umpires Asked To Attend Meeting

An important meeting of the city softball league will be held at the "Y" Friday night at 7:30 o'clock sharp. This meeting is for the purpose of adopting the 1936 schedule which has been drawn up for the six teams in the circuit.

The meeting will be for managers of the teams only. It is urgently requested that all who desire to umpire the games this year be on hand at the meeting for a study of the rules and to get instructions.

Only one of the teams has turned in its franchise money. This money will have to be in the hands of the treasurer, Michael Babovsky, before the first game of the season on Monday night, May 11. As drawn at the present time the first half of the league season will end on Wednesday night, June 24.

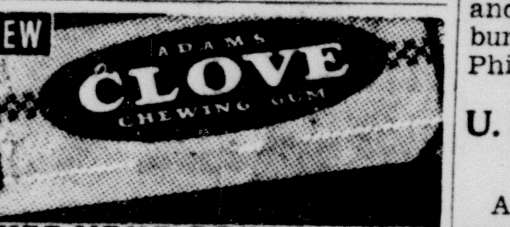

It is hoped that New Castle can have a fast softball league this summer. The big crowds last year were heartening to the players and league officials.

Rifle Match Is Arranged

The New Castle Rifle club will stage a rifle shoot tonight at the Zelenople range with the Connoquessing Rod and Gun club. It was announced today. Any of the New Castle Rifle club members who do not have any transportation are asked to call Leo W. Hill at 2032-M.

Team Sets New Duckpin Record

Shenango Tin Mill Team Wins City Duckpin League Championship

The Cities Service duckpin team of the City Duckpin League in the final match of the year in the league, blasted the maples for what is a New Castle duckpin record for a five-man team, when they rang up 2,717 to upset the Book team.

Johnny Hurn, of the championship Shenango Tin Mill team, had the high individual score of the year in the league, with 265. Individual three-game high record was held by Lloyd Rowles of the Tin Mill team, with 705 series. The Tin Mill also had the team high for one game at 988, and the Cities Service waited until the closing night and then banged out 2,717 to break the Tin Mill "grand slam" of all victories.

The results of the match in which a new duckpin record was established:

Promoters of the Max Schmeling-Joe Louis bout which will take place at New York in June apparently believe the depression is over having established a price of $40 as the top ticket price. Not since the golden days of 1923-1929 has a promoter dared to set such a high top. However, with interest in the coming scrap running high no doubt there will be many who will pay the top price so they can get close to the ring.

Butler Country club members feel rather proud because their course has been awarded the Western Pennsylvania Open championship. Temperment May Spoil Running Of Derby Race

Owners Of Brevity, Derby Favorite Want Things Just Right For Filly

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.—Just when it seemed as though even the suckers were going to be right about this Kentucky Derby of 1936, an innovation that might have led to a great deal of confusion, complications of a very reassuring nature began to set in today.

Matters reached a point, in fact, where it now looks as though the average man might have anywhere up to sixteen chances of being a sucker on Saturday, instead of only one, and naturally his confidence and interest are much restored.

The point is that the horse race is reliably reported, will probably be a horse race, whereas the previous idea was that Brevity, star of Joe E. Widener show, was just a "spread."

Very Temperamental
However, so is a dish towel and, besides, the owner and trainer of Brevity are beginning to believe ominously like M'sieur Baer just before he was led to the execution that night last September. They, meaning Joe E. Widener and trainer Pete Coyne, are making an issue about Brevity having his blinkers adjusted at the stall gates instead of in the paddock. Trainer Coyne has even said, that Brevity being a nervous horse and the parade to the post being of necessity lengthy, the colt would be so exhausted from skittering around in his blinkers that he might as well be scratched.

M'sieur Baer, as I recall, said he had to have his special gloves or he wouldn't fight. He was partly right. That, they gave him his special gloves and he wouldn't fight.

Matter Of Blinkers
I, who was fearlessly prepared to go off Brooklyn bridge in my hip boots if Brevity didn't win, am a little disquieted by the attitude of Joe E. and trainer Coyne. I don't mind their pitch about adjusting the blinkers at the gates, although admittedly this is a little irregular. I attach no especial importance to Brevity's "work" over the Derby distance at 2:13 3-5 since he will neither run without blinkers nor by himself I will even dismiss the rain of the last twenty four hours, although Brevity has never run in the mud and Grand Sam has and can and will.

But I really think they ought to stop talking about the things that will make them lose this horse race before it can possibly start. To one who might not know better, it sounds too much as though they were beginning to lose for the horse before he has a chance to do it for himself.

FIRST BAPTIST TO MEET
Members of the First Baptist church softball team will have a practice session at George Washington Field tonight at 6:15 o'clock. All those who wish a tryout with the team this year are asked to attend.

Derby Background
The Horse Farms
A Family Tree

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor.

Louisville is a bustling bedlam on Derby Day. There is noise and confusion in the packed hotel lobbies, in the automobile-choked streets. Eager thousands stream toward Churchill Downs as post time nears.

But a few miles outside the throbbing city, on the farms where the horses are, there is a feeling of quiet waiting. It is another Derby, the best horse will win, and he may go on to become great, but he will return to these peaceful, grassy pastures after it is all over.

Perhaps, in the dewy dawn of Derby Day, while the horse that will win frets nervously in his stall in Louisville, another little bundle of fur with four sticks for legs is born on one of the Kentucky farms. The winner of the 1936 Kentucky derby? It could very well be, for in one of these barns, back in 1933, the colt was born that will lead the others home this year.

What Horse Means Here.

The farms with their white fences and barns, seem far from the crowds and cheers at the Downs. But here is a foal, leaning weakly against his dam's strong legs—the foal that in a few years will give the headline writers in hundreds of newspapers a name to flash to the world outside Kentucky.

To the men and women on the farms the horses have a meaning different from the ideas of the men and women in the betting ring. These horses are life stories, family stories that run back for generations.

Take one of the Derby horses—Coldstream. Coldstream is a dark bay colt, bred in old Kentucky, named for the farm where he was born, the Coldstream Stud of Charles B. Schaffer. Back in 1933, when Broke's Tip, another Kentucky horse, was winning the Derby, Coldstream was an awkward baby taking his first few steps on the Schaffer farm. But Coldstream's story begins farther back than that for these people on the farms who see the horse, watch him run for a few years on tracks in New York, Massachusetts, California and finally greet him when he returns to settle down and raise a family.

Coldstream is by Bull Dog, foreign stallion, and Nimble Hoof. The stories of this stallion and mare can be traced farther back through the books than nine out of ten American families can trace their ancestry.

On His Mother's Side.

Take Coldstream's mother, Nimble Hoof, daughter of Sweep. Sweep died about five years ago, at the age of 24 years. Sweep was a son of Ben Brush, foaled in 1893. Ben Brush died when 25 years old, at the Hartland stud of Senator Johnson N. Camden, Versailles, Ky.

Ben Brush was a son of Bramble, born in 1875, died in 1901. Bramble's sire was the great Bonnie Scotland himself, born in 1853, died in 1880, at the Belle Mead stud of Gen. W. G. Harding, in Tennessee.

Bonnie Scotland, British racer, by Iago, out of Queen Mary, was the father of one of the three cardinal lines of race horses in the United States. He was imported in 1857 by Captain Cornish of Boston, was sent to Ohio, Illinois, finally to Tennessee.

That is part of the story of Coldstream's background, going back 93 years. That is some of the background, too, of the quiet Kentucky farms not far from the bustling bedlam of Louisville.

Rod Davis Is High In Shoot

Rod Davis was high man with the fine score of 192 out of a possible 200 at the semi-weekly shoot of the Nonpareil club range at the West Side garage. Second high was split by Barber and Eckles with 190's apiece.

The Nonpareil club will stage another shoot tonight at the West Side range at 7:30 o'clock.

The scores of the Tuesday shoot: Davis 192, Barber 190, Eckles 190, Hill 189, Rohrer 186, Curtis 186, Grodecour 180, Boyd 178, Adams 176, Shaw 174, Walsh 171, Doss 171, Chambers 162, Wilson 161, Gardner 158, Miller 140, T. C. Post 130, Gerald Post 123.

CHANGE FIELDS

Members of the Bonnetts softball team of the city league are asked to take notice of the change in fields from B & O. to Lehigh for the practice sessions for tonight and Friday night at 6 o'clock. Venditto and Ross will have charge of the team this year.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The downward trend in stocks was extended today after a momentary recovery at the start, pivotal issues breaking into new low ground.

Trading picked up in volume on the downside and the ticker was hard put to keep up with the rush of selling orders.

American Telephone slumped more than three points to below 130 on top of Wednesday's decline of six.

Motor shares were particularly weak, fractional gains in General Motors and Chrysler being converted into losses of one and two points, respectively.

Steels sold off with the rest of the list, as margins of more than a point in Bethlehem and U. S. Steel were turned into fractional losses.

U. S. Gypsum dropped 2½, while J. I. Case cracked five points. Westinghouse and Johns-Manville each slid off two points.

Such rail issues as N. Y. Central, Great Northern, Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio ruled only slightly under previous closings.

Oils were led downward by Standard Oil of N. J., which fell more than a point. Standard of California and Texas Corp. dropped almost as much.

Bonds were lower. Grains scored fair-sized gains, but cotton was easier.

May Meet Here
For Convention(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., April 30.—John P. Pfeil, of Swissvale, and John H. Dorr, of Monongahela, were nominated today to succeed the Rev. Dr. L. Franklin Harkey, of Washington, as governor of the 33rd district of Rotary International at the annual convention here today.

The convention will close late this afternoon with the election of one of the two nominees and the choice of a 1937 convention city. It was understood New Castle may extend a bid for the 1937 convention.

Fabrics dye a darker shade of the original color more satisfactorily than they do an entirely different color. For example, a tan-colored garment will have a clearer color if dyed a darker brown than it will if a red or blue dye is used.

It was difficult in earlier years to induce men to fill minor public offices and laws were passed in Rhode Island, which remained on the statute books for many years, providing penalties for refusal to accept office.
